Cattle Losses on Nebraska Ranches.

DR. M'GLYNN COMMENDED.

Ohio Railroad People Censured for Being the Cause of an Accident.

[Special to the Herald by the Associated Press.]

LINCOLN, Neb., February 20.—The damage to telegraph wires has made the task of collecting details of the late storm in Colorado and Western Nebraska very slow and tedious work. As the news comes in it shows that the atmospheric disturbance was the worst experienced in the history of the region affected by it. The storm raged in the mountains and descended upon the plains. These had been dry and free of moisture so long that the dust and sand mingled with the snow in resistless torrents. Neither man nor beast could stand before the rush of this compound, which filled the shallow cuts level full and effectually blockaded the tracks. Fortunately as those cuts were shallow, the snow plows were able to clear them out. The roof of the Burlington roundhouse, at Akron, was blown off. West of McCook two men were picked up dead, and another so badly frozen and exhausted that his life was despaired of. Many other fatalities are expected to be heard of when reports come in from districts remote from railroads. Passengers and trainmen saw droves of cattle buried to their heads in the snow and hardly a cow was to be seen elsewhere. It is evident that many are entirely covered, and that most of those that were seen will perish; in fact, all except those few that may be found and dug out by the small forces available for that purpose, will be lost. The loss of stock will be something appalling. The storm covered the entire eastern range of the Rocky mountains, from the British line to New Mexico. East of these points no damage was done. Unless the stories are exaggerated, not less than 25 per cent. of all the cattle on the range are wiped out.

HIS COURSE COMMENDED.

The Re-Installment of Dr. McGlynn Confidently Expected.

NEW YORK, February 20.—The belief that Dr. McGlynn will be reinstated in St. Stephen's Church was the topic of conversation among the parishioners of the church to-day. It is said that Dr. McGlynn has received letters not only from many priests of the Roman Catholic Church in this country and in Europe, but has also letters from several Cardinals and Bishops, commending his course and approving his strength of purpose in holding to his opinions on the property in land, which are, they say, consistent with the doctrines of the church. The theory now entertained by Dr. McGlynn's friends is that he will be reinstated as pastor of St. Stephen's; that he will return to his home in the rectory, and that he will then go to Rome. He will never go to Rome, it is said, unless he goes as pastor of St. Stephen's. The re-installment of the Doctor, it is believed, will take place before April 10, which is Easter Sunday. Dr. McGlynn's health is steadily improving, and he now goes out daily. Masses were not largely attended to-day and the collections were small.

DUELLING FIENDS.

They Quarrel, Fight and Prove Execrable Shots.

NEW ORLEANS, La., February 20.—Emile Rivoria, manager, and Andri L. Roman, editor, of the French evening paper, Trait d'Union, left this morning for Jefferson Parish, where they met on the field of honor. The weapons used were ordinary duelling pistols, and the distance fifteen paces. After exchanging two shots each, without bloodshed, the seconds interposed and the hostilities came to an end. It appears that there has been some misunderstanding regarding the management of the paper and the duel was a result of the disagreement.

A New Jersey Mayor Sued for Libel

JERSEY CITY, N. J., February 20.—Mayor Orestes Cleveland, of this city, was served yesterday afternoon with a summons and complaint in a libel suit for $2500 damages, brought by William and Robert Pinkerton, of Pinkerton's Detective Agency. The libel is based upon a communication dated February 8th, over the signature of Mayor Cleveland, in which the latter is represented as saying: "And Pinkerton's army stands ready to charge at a moment's notice—and what an army! It was organized by a British penal convict and is now a power in the land." The summons is returnable on March 22d before the United States Court at Trenton.

Kasher Sheal Barzal Installation.

NEW YORK, February 20.—One hundred delegates from New York, New Jersey, the New England States and Canada assembled here to-day at the annual convention of the order of Kasher Sheal Barzal (ring of iron district,) No. 1. Officers were elected and installed as follows: Grand President, Levi J. Isaac; Grand Vice-President, Leonard Leisersohr and Moses Greenbaum; Grand Secretary, H. Rosenthal; Grand Treasurer, E. Lowenstein.

Mining Mills Closed Down.

BUTTE, Mont., February 20.—Three large stamp mills closed down to-day for want of salt, and two more will close on Monday, stopping all silver and copper mines and throwing thirty-five hundred men out of employment, on account of the snow blockade.

A Land Application Denied.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—Secretary Lamar has denied the application of S. G. Blaisdell for a reversal of the decision of the Commissioner of the Land Office, refusing to enter eighty acres of land in Los Angeles District within the limits of the original Texas Pacific grant.

A Prominent Lawyer Dead.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., February 20.—Judge J. C. Brown, a prominet railroad lawyer and attorney for the Pacific Express Company, died suddenly between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning at the Capital Hotel.

THE BATTLE OF LIFE.

The Butchers Fight to Supply New York With Meat.

NEW YORK, February 20.—The Mail and Express says: "A big fight is at hand and the prize is the meat supply of New York City. Three opposing armies have been struggling and planning during the past year against each other. Each possesses ammunition to the amount of $9,000,000. Slight skirmishes have been fought during the last few months, followed by a lull during the week just passed. However, the scheme has been unearthed, which for boldness and enterprise is unparalleled in history. The Cleaver National Consumers' Meat Company is its author, and has succeeded in surprising its foes, the Chicago dressed beef men and the city slaughterers. This is the scheme. The sale of Chicago dressed beef and city slaughtered carcasses is about even in New York. Last March the National Consumers met, formed a company and opened five retail stores in this city. It shipped dressed carcasses direct from the Montana range country, and thus became a rival not only of the city slaughterers and Chicago dressed-beef men, but also of the retail butchers. With its forces concentrated and its capital multiplied, it will make a vigorous and diplomatic attack on the city slaughterers and Chicago men. Thus it proposes to call the retail butchers to its side by purchasing every shop in New York for cash, by making its proprietor a stockholder in the company, and retaining him as manager of the business. The company will supply all these stores with its own meat, and owning every retail establishment in the city, there will be no outlet for any other stock. This means the total abolition of city slaughtering and of all shipments of Chicago dressed beef to New York. This movement, it will be seen, is a very bold one. The Marquis de Mores, who is general of the Consumers' forces, is very confident of success, though reluctant at present to disclose the details of the scheme in question. "Our plan," he said yesterday, "is not to sell at wholesale to retail butchers, as seems to be the general impression. We desire to bring our stock direct to the consumer. Our company is to be merged into another very large syndicate and having abundant capital, we propose to buy up every retail store in this city either for cash or stock. If our negotiations are not successful, we can open three or four hundred independent retail shops. We first desire to give every retail butcher a chance to dispose of his business. The city slaughterers cannot compete with us." A. E. Foster, of Kansas City, the company's western manager, who was present during the interview, said that any possible opposition from the Chicago dressed beef company was not considered at present. Interviews with leading wholesale butchers are given. They are generally of the opinion that the plan won't work. They say that it will take about twenty millions to begin to buy all the retail stores. This will not give the company all the trade, as its meat is not equal in quality to city dressed, and opposition shops will spring up all around those of the syndicate. Managers of the Chicago dressed beef houses do not think much of the scheme.

THE JANUARY HOLOCAUST.

A Railroad Company Arraigned in a Coroner's Verdict.

PITTSBURG, Pa., February 20.—A Tiffin, O., special says: The investigation of the great Baltimore and Ohio wreck of January 4th has drawn to an end finally and to-morrow morning a verdict will be rendered by Coroner Sepper. The verdict is a very lengthy document, of which the following is a synopsis taken from an advance copy received to-night: The Coroner first finds that William Frederick Holgate, of Ohio, J. M. Francis and Frank Irvin, of Block Hand, O.; W. S. Pierce, of Wheeling, W. Va.; Joseph Postlethwaite, Henry Postlethwaite and Spencer Postlethwaite, of Wetzel county, W. Va.; M. H. Parks, of Washington, D. C.; Frank D. Bowman, of Mechanicsburg, Pa.; David Ober, of Oberlin, Pa.; Thos. O. Pemberton, of Payne, O.; Aloy B. Ice, of Penfield, Ill.; J. S. Garten, of Mechanicsville, Ia., and others whose names are unknown, came to their death by collision on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, one-half mile west of the village of Republic, January 4, 1887, at 2 o'clock A. M. He also finds that freight engine No. 923, was in an unsafe and unserviceable condition, and that the officials of the road had been notified of this fact but still allowed it to be used. The engineer of the freight train, Edward S. Kiler, was not intoxicated, as charged, but was worn out with sixteen hours and fifty minutes continued duty with a green fireman and a poor engine. He had plenty of time to get to Republic from the Seneca siding, having thirty-eight minutes to cover ten miles, but his engine was so poor and leaked so that the fires were put out and it died on the track at the point of the collision. The conductor of the freight, L. F. Fletcher, failed in his duty for not flagging the limited express, for he knew the engine had ten minutes before the express was due. The brakes on the express were inferior and ineffective, for they failed to diminish the speed of forty-three miles an hour more than one-half in the distance of 1000 feet. The manner of heating and lighting the cars of the express was inferior, unsafe, dangerous and contrary to the laws of the State of Ohio. Had the lighting and heating been proper the cars would not have been very light. We therefore find the above persons came to their death through gross negligence on the part of the officials and managers of the Chicago division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, of Garrett and through the gross negligence of Conductor L. F. Fletcher, in failing to signal the express train, and through the gross negligence on the part of the owners, managers and officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Co. for using on said express train inferior and ineffective brakes; also for using an improper, dangerous and unlawful manner of lighting and heating the cars of the said express. It would seem that such negligence resulting in such great loss of life could not be other than criminal, but there are no laws in Ohio making such negligence a crime and no laws under which such offenders can be charged with crime.

Fire at Wheatland.

WHEATLAND, February 20.—B. F. Dam's residence, adjoining the town, was burned to-day. A strong south breeze was blowing at the time. The house and its contents were a total loss. They were partially insured.

FOREIGN.

German Elections Drawing Near.

CHINAMEN NOT WANTED.

Russia, Offended at the Pope's Excessive Demands, Refuses to Re-Establish Relations.

[Special to the Herald by the Associated Press.]

BERLIN, February 20.—There is a pause in the intensity of the electoral contest pending on Monday's polling. The committees everywhere continue active, but there is a momentary lull in the public agitation. There is also a significant subsidence in the war rumors. This, the opposition say, is because the government no longer considers such an excitant necessary. Although the official circles are sure of victory, they are much less confident that their majority will be large. Their most sanguine estimates increase the number of Conservatives from 78 to 86, the United Liberals from 50 to 60, and reduces the Freisinnger, or Independents, from 67 to 50, leaving the other sections about the same as before. A septennate majority is dependent upon a split in the Center party, in which, it is calculated, there are 69 triennials against 30 septennists. If this estimate is realized, and the Government fails to obtain a submissive majority for all its purposes, the new Reichstag will vote for the military bill, but will be as equally ready as was the last Reichstag to resist Bismarck in his projects for securing permanent supplies. The Socialists hope to return 34 candidates, an increase of 10 over the number in the last Reichstag. The Progressionists are the only party with moderate expectations; they will be gratified if they retain their former force. The results of the elections will be definitely known by Tuesday night. It is reported that Prince Bismarck desires to convoke the Reichstag for February 28th, and that he will demand urgency for the military bill. A ministerial order was issued yesterday, relative to calling at the army recruits for 1887 and 1888, which provides that men who receive permission to discontinue active service and enter the reserves will be dismissed at the latest on September 31st, while between the 1st and the 5th of November the new infantry recruits will enter the ranks for army drills.

NO HEATHEN NEED APPLY.

Costa Rica Refuses Hospitality to the Chinese.

NEW YORK, February 20.—Advices under date of February 8th from Costa Rica say: The Minister of the Interior and of Marine has sent the following circular to the port captains of Limon and Punta Arenas: The Government has determined to prohibit the entry to the republic of Chinese, and for this reason you will prevent the landing of any Chinaman, where he comes of his own accord or to work for others.

Russia Refuses Renewed Relations.

ROME, February 10.—It is stated that the Russian government, in consequence of what it considers the Pope's excessive claims, has rejected a proposal to re-establish relations with the Holy See. Cardinal Jacobini is still endeavoring to arrange the matter.

The Catholic Interests of America.

ROME, February 20.—Cardinal Gibbons has been very busy since his arrival here. No definite information regarding the business of the propaganda is known, but it is certain that the great questions touching the Catholic interests in America will be considered carefully. Cardinal Gibbons is expected to express his opinion on all questions submitted for his views, because of his great acquaintance with he present American question and his strong love of American institutions. It is difficult to believe that the conclusion reached will be of an unfavorable character. Time is still required for settlements of Cardinals in curia. Bishops Scarra, of Melbourne, and Keane, of Richmond, Va., congratulated the Pope in the Vatican to-day upon the ninth anniversary of his Pontificate. The Pope, in his discourse, described the Baltimore Council as an honor to America and the whole Church. Bishop Keane afterward thanked the Pope.

Railway Military Mobilization Plans.

BERLIN, February 20.—The conference of the Railway Military Commission on Mobilization, held at Wiesbaden, was attended by delegates from all the German railways and numerous army officers. Exhaustive arrangements for the scheme of transit were completed, but absolute secrecy is maintained regarding the plans fermed.

A Polish Plot Discovered.

ODESSA, February 20.—An extensive plot has been discovered for a Polish rising in the event of a Russo-Austrian or Russo-German war. Many imperial officials are implicated. Twenty persons have been arrested.

Seizure of a Zanzibar Man-of-War.

ZANZIBAR, February 20.—The Portuguese men-of-war which recently went to Tungi, have seized a Zanzibar man-of-war which was sent to defend that place.

Preparing for the Worst.

VIENNA, February 20.—A council of war met again on Saturday. Officers of the reserve are forbidden to leave the country.

Getting Ready.

PARIS, February 20.—French officers are buying horses in Spain.

Cannot Escape Retribution.

RENO, Nev., February 20.—At Moran, the northern terminus of the Nevada and California narrow-gauge railway, last evening, a vaquero named Dubois shot and killed George Blether and mortally wounded John Cooney, both of whom were employed in a sawmill near by. Dubois escaped on foot, but owing to the snow it is thought that it is impossible for him to get out of the country.

THE SACRAMENTO SENSATION.

Investigation of the Charges of Falk's Crookedness.

Special Dispatch to the HERALD.]

SACRAMENTO, February 20.—The sensation of the session is the testimony of J. Smith, second clerk at the desk, before the special commissioner of the Assembly to examine into the charges against Ray J. Falk. The developments were unexpectedly sensational, involving members of both bodies and others. Smith made a clean breast of the dark ways of legislation, "squealing" on every body without the least discrimination. Frank J. Brandon swore that he saw no bills actually changed. He knew that leaves were cut out and Smith discovered it. It would have changed many bills, and he saw Falk at the desk, handling the file. He was cutting out and changing it. He had a knife in his hand and was using it as he stood at the file. He had a mucilage brush in his hand. "I think he had a piece of paper in his hand also. I do not think any one else touched the file."

EVIDENCE AGAINST FALK

Is clear and conclusive and leaves the committee no alternative but to report against him. The next witness was Smith, who is now the lion of the session. He produced the mutilated sheets and showed how the cutting would have advanced the bills on the file. He said that when he discovered that the file was mutilated he reported the fact to Clerk Ryan and to Speaker Jordan. He testified that he found the whole file wrong and torn up, and that he made a new one. He said that

OFFERS OF MONEY

Had been made to him to change bills on the file. He had always reported the offers to Ryan, and had invariably refused to make such changes. He had been offered money nearly every day. Some days three or four offers had been made to him. The highest sum ever offered him was $200. Assemblymen and Senators both had offered him money, and tried to corrupt him. They said to him that his office was the only one at the desk at which any money could be made, and that he might as well leave with $1500 as to go home broke. He ventilated the

CORRUPT PRACTICES

Of legislation generally, and showed how clerks could make themselves useful for a consideration. The interesting portion of his testimony was as follows: "Well, to tell you the truth, when I was first approached on this bill I went to Hart, of Colusa, and asked him if he would protect me if I made the change and should be found out. Hart replied promptly, 'No, sir; I would not. I do not want anything to do with any such business. I want the bill considered on its merits, and do not wish it to pass in any other way. No dishonorable means shall be used with my consent.'" Smith continued, "I did not intend to do it, and only said I would to get rid of the party who had first approached me. I said it only as a bluff. The next day I was

"APPROACHED AGAIN

By the same man, who said, 'You did not do that.' I said, 'No, it must be some mistake of the printer, I will do it to-morrow.' I got Frank Ryan to go with me to the State Printing office so that he could see that no changes were made. He went with me, and so did Mr. Bruck." Smith then showed why he had gone to Hart, of Colusa, to sound him on the proposition.

KNOX, OF LOS ANGELES,

He said, came to him to learn what he knew concerning corrupt uses to pass the bill. He said Knox wanted to know so that he could use the knowledge to defeat the bill. It was to get Knox the information that he went to Hart. Smith then repeated the statement that promises of money had been made to him if he would advance the Glenn county bill upon the file. He said that he had also been assured that if his associate clerks should discover him and threaten his exposure they should

ALSO BE "FIXED"—

That is, receive boodle. Smith said that last year he was offered $1000 to change the word "or" to "and" in a bill. He declined to do it, but came very near doing it. That offer, he said, was made to him by a prominent State official who is still in office, but whose term of appointment will expire in about two months. The name was not revealed. Smith then proceeded to say that at this session he was offered $200 to drop Taylor's Insurance bill from the file altogether. This bill was introduced at the instance of the Insurance Commissioners and simply makes some verbal changes, so as to harmonize with the code. When Mr. Ellsworth asked, "Who made you this offer?"

EWING OF SAN FRANCISCO

Objected. It was decided that the witness should answer the question. Ewing insisted that the reporter and others should be driven out. The question was submitted to a vote, and Ellsworth alone stuck out against the star-chamber proceedings. Ewing and Woods voting against more light. The committee at this point went into executive session. To-night Smith was threatened.

WITH PERSONAL VIOLENCE

By Buckley, an implicated San Francisco lawyer. Smith was protected by his friends.

The Committee on the Falk Investigation will meet again in the morning, when Smith proposes to unbosom himself. His revelations threaten to

INVOLVE TWO SENATORS,

Pindar and Moffitt, and a number of Assemblymen. Smith's evidence has been fortified by letters from the men whom he has implicated. He will on to-morrow make further revelations involving members, lobbyists and attorneys, whose corrupting efforts he will also prove by their own handwriting. The investigation will take a wide scope and will prove the sensation of the session. It may lead to one or more impeachments.

Inviting Immigration.

ANDERSON, February 20.—The Horticultural Association of Southern Shasta County organized yesterday, with E. Trisbie as President. Its location will be here. The object of the association is to encourage the growth of fruit and vines, and to invite immigration. The meeting was well represented and enthusiastic.

An Incendiary Fire.

SANTA CRUZ, February 20.—At 1 o'clock this morning the barn and contents, belonging to B. Amaya, in Branciforf, was burned to the ground. Four horses were burned to death and four sets of harness and other material were destroyed. The loss is about $12,000, uninsured. The fire is supposed to have been incendiary.

At the time of her appointment the organization numbered but five corps. In February, 1885, a permanent organization of the Department was perfected, and Mrs. Kinne was elected Department President. In June of the same year, at the National Convention, in Portland, Me., she was elected Senior National Vice-President, and in August, 1886, was elected National President.

In February, 1886, she closed her year's work as Department President with 21 Corps and 1200 members. Now the Department has 35 Corps, all in good working order, with 2300 or more members. Though the Department has not as many Corps as some of the Eastern Departments, still it ranks fifth in the matter of membership. Last year this Department disbursed $2700 in charity to the widows and orphans of soldiers, and to destitute soldiers not members of the G. A. R.

THE PROGRAMME.

The Encampment will begin its session at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Odd Fellows' Hall, over the postoffice. Nothing will probably be done excepting hearing the reports of officers read. On to-morrow the visiting delegates will be given an excursion over the San Gabriel valley road to Monrovia, where a banquet will be provided. On the way back the excursionists will stop at Santa Anita, Pasadena and the Raymond. The train will leave at 9:15 A. M. and returning, arrive at 5 P. M. A pleasant trip is assured to all. On Wednesday the Encampment will get down to business. On that day will be elected a Department Commander. There are three prominent candidates for the position: Edward S. Salomon, a member of Garfield Post, San Francisco; Charles E. Wilson, a member of George H. Thomas Post, San Francisco, and Los Angeles furnishes a candidate in the person of Major George E. Gard. The Fraternal Record in its review of the candidates has the following to say of Major Gard;

"It is with deep regret that we can find no data for giving a more complete sketch of the life and military services of Comrade Gard, except that gleaned from public documents and the recollections of friends residing in this city. From the State Adjutant General's report for 1864–5, of volunteers, it appears that George E. Gard enlisted at Mariposa, November 9, 1864, in Company H, Seventh California Infantry, and was mustered in as First Sergeant January 3, 1865. Where the command served is not given, but presumably in California or Arizona. The Adjutant General's report of the U. S. A. states that the regiment was mustered out by companies between March 1, 1866, and June 28th of the same year.

"We learn that a few years since he served as Chief of Police of Los Angeles, and during the past two years held the position of Sheriff, but failed of re-election during the last campaign. Comrade Gard is a member of Frank Bartlett Post, No. 6, and Senior Vice Commander of the Department of California, G. A. R."

The visiting delegates are many of them accompanied by their wives and families, and have been all provided with pleasant stopping places by the home posts. On Wednesday evening there will be a grand banquet tendered the visitors at Armory Hall. A cordial welcome is extended them, not only by members of the G. A. R., but by every citizen of Los Angeles, and no pains will be spared to make their sojourn in this fair city one of pleasure and long to be remembered.

Had no Australian Rabbits on Board.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 20.—The steamer Zealandia arrived this morning from Australia and was immediately boarded by Deputy Collector Fogarty for the purpose of searching the vessel for Australian rabbits, which, it was reported, she would bring to this port. These rabbits are a terrible pest in Australia, where they breed with great rapidity and destroy all vegetation. It was feared that if these animals were allowed to land they would make sad havoc with fruit trees, vines and wheat fields. The Legislature of the State, aware of these facts, adopted a resolution authorizing the immediate killing of rabbits on their arrival and further action in the matter is contemplated. Deputy Collector Fogarty searched the Zealandia, but diligent investigation failed to reveal the presence of any of the obnoxious animals.

A Murderer's Guilty Conscience.

THE DALLES, Or., February 20.—Carlton Force, who some time since purchased a ranch in Crook county, writes that the man from whom he purchased the ranch died recently, and on his death bed confessed having, with two others, murdered an old lady near Oregon City a number of years ago for her money. He had led a most miserable existence ever since, imagining himself haunted by a spectre, and he was worn to a shadow when he met death as a welcome relief. The murdered woman was probably Mrs. Hager, whose killing at Oregon City and the robbery at her house caused great excitement in 1879, and for which a young man, convicted on circumstantial evidence, is now serving a life sentense in the State Penitentiary.

Terrible Slaughter of Blacks.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 20.—Australian advices by steamer Zealandia, state that sixty lives were lost by the recent floods at Brisbane, Queensland The damage to property was enormous, but cannot yet be estimated. The Auckland Bell of January the 26th, says: A private letter received from Kimberely, contains an account of the terrible slaughter of a number of blacks in that district. A miner stole a young black; in retaliation the negroes killed the miner and wounded his two companions. The latter escaped, secured aid, pursued the blacks and out of a band of forty all but one was shot down.

A Boom for Livermore Valley.

LIVERMORE, Cal., February 20.—A large and enthusiastic mass meeting under the auspices of the Livermore Board of Trade, was held here last night. Speeches were made by Charles A. Wetmore, J. F. Batchelder, Wm. A. Robertson and others. Some correspondence from the Oakland Board of Trade was read stating that thirty families from the east were en route for Livermore Valley and that many others were to follow for the purpose of engaging in olive and vine growing. Numerous strangers are visiting the valley in quest of a location.

An Immense Flow of Lava.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 20.—The Hawaiian Gazette, of February 8th, received per Zealandia, says: The lava flow from the crater Mona Loa has ceased. Hunting for an Assassin.

It is supposed that he hides during the day and travels at night. Atlas Peak is six miles from Lyons' house, and the mountains there are very rough.

REAL ESTATE.

Review of the City and County Markets.

THE BUSINESS INCREASING.

Sales Made During the Week—Important Transfers and Aggregate of Transactions.

Real estate business has been picking up during the past few days, although the transfers have not been so numerous as toward the latter part of January. The rains have had the effect of keeping both buyers and sellers at home during the early part of the week, and in consequence business was comparatively light, yet transactions were numerous enough to excite the wonder of some of the excursionists who came from eastern cities of similar size to Los Angeles, where so much business is not completed in a month as is recorded here in a single day. The effect of the rains will be seen shortly, in the increase of transfers, for there is an accumulation waiting to be recorded and many sales which have been delayed will now be consummated. Several auction sales are on the tapis to take place shortly. The record for Monday, February 14 h, shows 58 transfers, aggregating $74,865; for Tuesday, the 15th, 34 transfers, $89,247; for Wednesday, the 16th, 55 transfers, $72,326; for Thursday, the 17th, 81 transfers, $146,624; for Friday, the 18th, 71 transfers, $116,-498; for Saturday, the 19th, 89 transfers, $162,261; total for the week, 388 transfers, valued at $662,012.

A FLOURISHING TOWN AT THE FOOTHILLS!

STOP AND SEE WHAT HAS BEEN DONE AT THIS THRIVING PLACE—IT IS ONLY 18 miles from Los Angeles. Ten passenger trains pass daily. A nice depot has just been built. A tasty and well-kept hotel is open to the public. Four stores have been built here, several cottages, a livery stable, a blacksmith shop, etc., etc. A brick block is now going up which will contain three business rooms on the first floor and a large music hall and anterooms in the second story. One or two more brick blocks are promised to be built soon. The plans have been adopted for a church, which will be built before spring. A $5000 school-house is soon to be erected. This is fast becoming a business center for the large and beautiful valleys surrounding it. It will be a popular health resort, as it is well protected by the foothills and commands a fine panoramic view of Covina, Azusa, Duarte, Monrovia, Sierra Madre, Pasadena, Raymond Hotel, etc. The Puente oil wells are becoming noted, and are furnishing fuel for many large manufactories in different parts of the State. Why should we not have manufacturing done here and save transportation? The surrounding lands are about to be subdivided into small tracts. Visit PUENTE and be convinced that this is the place to make good investments. Lots have sold very rapidly, but few are left which can be had at low prices.

☞Parties wishing to see the place will find excellent accommodations at the HOTEL ROWLAND, Puente, and Mr. SIAS, the proprietor, will take pleasure in furnishing maps and showing the tract. For further information, call on the owners,

A PROSPEROUS TOWN.

Rapid Increase of Population and Industries

IN BUSY, THRIVING COLTON.

What Has Been Done, Is Being Done—"As it Was in the Beginning, is Now," Etc.

The town of Colton, at the junction of the Southern Pacific, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé, the motor railroad, and the Riverside, Santa Ana and Los Angeles railways, fifty-eight miles east of Los Angeles, in the center of the north end of the Santa Ana valley, is now coming to the front as a great commercial town. For several years after its location it moved slowly in the path of progress until the building of railways, that, in addition to its great facilities by rail east and west, gave it other facilities north and south. This remarkable addition to the transportation facilities of the town about three years ago attracted the attention of capitalists and manufacturers, who entered this favored field with a right good will, and have found great reward for their investments and enterprise.

From a little settlement of 600 persons before this boom commenced, the town of Colton now contains 2500 persons, and the population is rapidly increasing.

During the past year two large hotels have been opened, the West Side and the Davis House, the latter a fine, showy edifice at the railway junction, kept by Dr. Wilson; five handsome brick blocks have been finished and occupied, and about 200 houses have been erected for the rich and those in moderate circumstances, and the two great lumber yards are constantly busy in supplying building materials.

One of the best of brick kilns is constantly crowded with orders, although it turns out 10,000 brick per day of very superior quality.

The new lumber manufacturing and planing mill of the Pioneer Lumber and Milling Company is now complete and crowded with work. It is without doubt the best yet made in the State. All the machinery is massive and strong, of the best iron and steel, and runs without jar and friction. All persons who fear to enter such an establishment, on the old plan, with its bewildering, flying bands that catch the clothes of men and women and hurl them to destruction, will be delighted to see this mill in which all the shafting is in the basement where there are no visitors or workmen. The bands peep through the floor, seize a polished pulley and whirl it in its appointed work till the director, with a gentle touch, says, "thus far and no farther," and the flying pinions cease to roll. Such a change in the arrangement is a step in the right direction.

During the year the California Southern Railway have erected three railway buildings at Colton Junction, and the Southern Pacific Company are now at work in erecting a round-house and turn-table for the throng of locomotives that is used in its immense business at this place. In addition to this improvement the Southern Pacific Company is now laying 8000 feet of side track to accommodate its increasing business and will soon build a large passenger depot on the site of the old building, which will be removed eastwardly and used as a warehouse.

An enormous warehouse of brick and iron, covering two acres of ground at the junction of the A., T. & S. F. and the Southern Pacific Company, is to be erected this spring with all modern facilities for storage of property and advances thereon.

The motor railway from Colton to San Bernardino, built by Col. R. W. Button, is a fine success. It is doing a fine business. The great Colton is getting ready for the vast crop of fruit in prospect. It now has facilities for canning fifty tons of fruit per day and will have to enlarge shortly to greater capacity and employ about 400 persons in all its branches.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY.

The HERALD some time since in describing the manner in which Los Angeles was outstripping all other cities in its widespread university system in the founding of branches devoted to all branches of human learning, suggested that the parent university of Southern California in this city in addition to its six branches already planted, should have a school of mines. This idea has been made practical by the Colton people and a tract has been secured of nine and three-quarter acres on which a university building will be erected, called the "Collegiate Institute and School of Mines of the University of Southern California." Four other buildings will be erected for the professors in the school at the angles of the main edifice. One of these will be built by Colonel A. B. Hotchkiss, another by Mrs. M. L. Ferguson, and another by W. H. Mintzer. The name of the other donor of a house unfortunately escaped recollection. Professor L. L. Rogers and Mrs. M. L. Ferguson are the managers of the matter. The college will be on Nob hill, northwest of Colton, with railways on three sides already built.

Colonel A. M. Gray, of Los Angeles, is now preparing plans for an opera house for this bustling, prosperous settlement. A new national bank has been established during the past year in Colton.

The orange crop of Colton this winter is one of the finest in the world—free from fungus or scale, large and luscious.

A marble quarry just south of the city will furnish material for a new commercial building, and the perpetual lime kilns close by will furnish both cement and other lime.

Much of this prosperity, which is large and enduring, is owing to the tireless and talented Col. A. B. Hotchkiss, President of the Colton Land and Water Company, and to judicious advertising in the LOS ANGELES DAILY and ILLUSTRATED HERALD, and the Colton Evening Semi-Tropic, conducted by J. C. Peacock, Jr. Mr. Peacock is one of the oldest in Colton, and has done more for that town than he has for himself. In this he resembles some other editors in this city. No young settlement loses anything by patronizing the advertising columns of a newspaper.

A mammoth hotel on Slover mountain, on the south side of Colton, to contain 400 rooms, is now in the hands of a stock company, to prepare plans and ways and means for its erection. The town is a sample of the spirit of progress that is abroad in the land, of which such careful and constant mention has been made in the people's newspaper, the LOS ANGELES DAILY, WEEKLY and ILLUSTRATED HERALD.

MEXICAN COAST TRADE.

T. P. H. Whitelaw Goes to England to Buy Three Steamers.

T. P. H. Whitelaw, the well-known shipping man, leaves for England to-day. He has received a commission to buy three staunch steamers to be employed in running between the port of San Diego and the port of San José de Guatemala. Mr. Whitelaw is interested in the company called the "Mexican International Steamboat Company of the Pacific and Gulf of California." This company received a concession from the Mexican Republic, dated April 16, 1886. By the terms of the contract, the company are to furnish three steamers of not less than 800 tons burthen each, to carry the Mexican flag. For the first five years the subsidy to be paid for each voyage, both ways, from San Diego to San José de Guatemala is $8000; for the second five years, $6000, and for the remaining ten years, $4000. The company may make their own freight and passenger tariff, giving due notice to the Government and the public of the alterations, but they must not exceed the following rates: First-class passenger, 10 cents per mile of 60 miles to the degree; second class, 5 cents per mile; third class, 3 cents per mile. Merchandise—First class, 6 cents a ton of 40 cubic feet per mile; second class, 4 cents per ton; third class, 2 cents per ton per mile.—[San Francisco Alta.

A Bank at Santa Monica.

The City by the Sea is beginning to put on metropolitan airs, like many other towns round about. Petitions are out for a street railway franchise, and a franchise for a wharf, and now comes the definite assurance that there is a man in our midst who is willing and ready to establish a bank. Mr. J. W. Robertson, of Beaver Falls, Pa., whose family have resided in this place for some years, has recently returned and expresses his determination to open a bank as soon as he can secure an eligible lot, erect a building and make all the necessary arrangements. Mr. Robertson was until recently cashier of the First National Bank, of Beaver Falls. We have before us the Daily Tribune of that place, which contains a very complimentary notice of Mr. Robertson, written by a correspondent of that paper. We select the following paragraph: "In the community or in the bank, Mr. Robertson's genial and frank manners made him many friends. He was exceptionally well fitted for his position in the bank. During the eighteen months that he acted as cashier, the books were kept and the business managed in a most satisfactory manner. During all this time, I think the bank did not lose one dollar through his negligence, mistakes, bad contracts, or otherwise. I think it a record really exceptional. Mr. Robertson's seat in the church and prayer meeting was seldom vacant. In the theater and low operatic shows it was always vacant. Beaver Falls cannot well afford to lose such a citizen. The bank is to be congratulated in securing the services of one to succeed Mr. Robertson, in every way worthy."—[The Outlook.

Accidental Shooting.

In our brief newspaper experience here, we have scarcely been called upon to record a more painful circumstance than that which occurred at the residence of F. M. McDonald, in Bolsa, last Monday forenoon. At that time three children of Mr. McDonald's family, one aged six years, another four years and the third an infant, were playing in a room by themselves when a pistol report was heard coming from the room. Hurrying to the room, the parents were informed by the four-year-old boy—whose name is Robert—that his brother—the six-year-old boy—had shot the baby. An investigation, however, disclosed the fact that it was not the baby, but the four-year-old Robert himself who had been shot by his brother. The weapon used was an old and rusty British bulldog revolver of 44 calibre, which had laid around the house many years, and the ball passed below the left shoulder between a large artery and the left lung. Dr. Howe was called and probed the wound, tracing the course of the ball about four inches, to a point where it struck the shoulder-blade; but he was unable to locate the position of the ball, which he thinks may have passed downward into the body from the shoulder-blade. At last accounts the little fellow was alive but still in a precarious condition. So close were the two boys to each other at the time of the shooting that Robert's face was burned by the powder and his clothes were set on fire. Parents cannot too carefully care for firearms when children are around.—[Pacific Blade.

The "Illustrated Herald."

The forthcoming number of the Illustrated Herald will surpass in attractiveness and interest any preceding issue of this very superior publication. The engravings have been executed by the best artists on the Pacific coast, and the mechanical finish of the whole publication will be such as to reflect credit upon the good taste and workmanship of the printers. It will be filled with carefully prepared articles on Southern California, and every interest of Los Angeles county will find itself ably presented and discussed in its columns. As a compilation of facts relating to the attractions and progress of our section, the Illustrated Herald will be invaluable to send abroad. It will give the stranger a comprehensive and graphic idea of the value of our section to the Easterner seeking for a new home, and by its dissemination will materially assist in accelerating the gratifying march of our city in its unexampled career of prosperity. The Illustrated Herald will be out from the press by about the 25th of this month, and ready for distribution about the 1st of March. Orders should be sent in immediately.

Although we printed a greatly increased edition of the Herald yesterday over the ordinary Sunday edition, it was exhausted at an early hour, and many who applied for papers had to be refused.

The Oakland papers love to dwell upon the circumstances—enlarged and elaborated—of our recent freshet. It was an "immense" flood; but we cannot say this much for our neighbor's recent snow-storm.

The San Jose News has come to the conclusion that our real estate agents were washed away by the recent freshet. This, because of their "loud silence," as it says. Our Jose-san neighbor is away wrong. Their "loud silence" is due to the fact that they were struck gen[u]inely dumb with astonishment at the handsome manner in which the first Eastern excursion from here was received by the Northern cities [w]ith snow-storm. They, however, have since recovered their wonted vehement reticence, and are selling lots at louder prices than before. Snow harm, neighbor!

A very large delegation of the G. A. R. arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to hold their Department Encampment here and to elect a Department Commander. The veterans have come from all parts of the State, and will have an opportunity not only of fraternizing, but of receiving ocular proof of the wonderful development going on in this section. Of course the men who were the nation's stay and hope in the hour of danger will be hospitably received and generously entertained during their sojourn in this favored part of our State.

It is well known that the border towns of Mexico are infected with small-pox. In Guaymas it is epidemic, and tainted people have fled in all directions. The contagion has spread to Nogales, on the boundary line, where it is flagrant, and cases have found their way over the line, and the pest is pushing its way up into California. We have some cases here, as the result of the carelessness of the State authorities in failing to place a quarantine upon the travel from Western Mexico; and from here it will go into the upper part of the State, and where it finds conditions favorable it will become epidemic. The Legislature is now in session. We have a very energetic, capable and efficient State Board of Health. If funds were made available for the use of this Board, inspectors could be stationed at Yuma, Tucson and Benson to board all the cars and prevent infected persons from coming into this State. The railroad officials would co-operate with any one in authority, as they have done before, and a perfect quarantine could be established against the introduction of variola from Mexico. Our proximity to Mexico and the constant travel going on by land between that country and this ought to cause the Legislature to take a wise and liberal view of the dangers we stand in from infectious diseases. Smallpox is frequently raging in the filthy cities of Sonora and Sinaloa, and hardly a year passes that yellow fever does not break out virulently in Mazatlan and other Gulf cities. A few hundred dollars placed in the hands of the State Board of Health could be successfully utilized to quarantine the recurring infections within the lines of Mexico and save our State from the hardship and expense of dealing with them after they have invaded our State. If smallpox break out disastrously in the cities of this State, it will be only because the present Legislature has pursued the ignorant and suicidal policy of its predecessors, and refuses to place sufficient funds at the disposition of the State Board of Health to keep the disease isolated where it originates and belongs.

Skepticism is very strongly inherent in humanity. Hence, there are still doubting Thomases in the country who do not believe that ours is destined to be a great section with a dense population. For the moment let all points of superiority in our favor, as compared with other parts of the Union, be waived, and no higher claim set up than that ours is as good a country as the average territory in the valley of the Mississippi. On this basis there is room for indefinite increase of enterprise, and expansion of population, with their concomitant growth of population. As an example, let us take the Puente ranch. There are about 50,000 acres in this body of land owned by E. J. Baldwin. Illinois boasts no soil of richer fertility than this. Nor is there a waste acre in the ranch. The population on that tract to-day, outside of the little town of Puente, does not number above fifty souls. This, as well as other large ranches in Los Angeles County, will one day be cut up into small farms. In Wisconsin and other Western States farmers are generally content to own one hundred and sixty acres. Many possess but eighty acres, and not a few make a living off forty acres of land. These farmers live in the main by grain growing. There is the family cow, the few hogs, perhaps half a dozen sheep, chickens, and in some cases a colt a year in the way of live stock. Now the most skeptical will not doubt that if a man can bring up his family in Los Angeles county as well as he can in Minnesota, and with the same investment of capital he will do it. Suppose the Puente were subdivided into farms of one hundred and sixty acres each. It will support about two hundred and eighty families. At five to the family we get fourteen hundred souls. Now if half of these farms embrace but eighty acres there will be four hundred and twenty families on this ranch. This will give a population of twenty-one hundred persons. Once more subdivide one-quarter of the two hundred and eighty farms of one hundred and sixty acres each, and there will be added two hundred and ten homes to the last count, or six hundred and thirty in all. The aggregate of population will be on this basis three thousand one hundred and fifty individuals. As to towns, there is not one now from Monrovia to Pomona, a distance of about twenty miles. Let one cast his mind's eye over the stretch of territory he is familiar with at the East. He will find no hiatus of such extent between towns of very considerable population. Between the two points named above there will surely spring up half a dozen towns. This stretch is taken because it lies immediately contiguous to the Puente, the subdivision and settling of which will stimulate the growth and settlement of these towns. The reasoning applied to this bit of country will hold just as good of all the rest of the valley. What is true of that part of the county is as true of the others. Mr. Baldwin has 40,000 acres in the Santa Anita ranch. There is the Felipe Lugo, which he also owns. Mr. Freeman has 15,000 acres in the Sausal Redondo and Centinela in the same unpopulated state. The Laguna is another great stretch all in one hand. Glance the eye over the county now with its great unpopulated areas, and take into account the climate, etc., and these remarks will be emphasized in no small degree.

LEGISLATIVE.

The "Herald's" Letter from Sacramento.

Special Herald Correspondence.

Sacramento, February 18, 1887.

Editor Herald:—This was another repetition of yesterday, only in a more emphatic style of debate. Senators called each other liars, but in language clothed in parliamentary verbiage. Senator Clunie got on the war path, his target being Senator Gaminetti of Amador. Gaminetti has been sick in bed for the past few days, and was not present when the vote was taken on the Insurance bill. Clunie does not forget these little things. A question came up yesterday as to whether another joint committee should go to San Francisco to take testimony in the contested election cases. Gaminetti recommended such committee and Clunie opposed it. Gaminetti insinuated that Senator Clunie's young brother was interested, and that was why he did not want any testimony taken. This stung Clunie, that his little brother should be assailed in this manner, without any apparent cause. He jumped to his feet, and in a speech of half an hour, laid it heavy on poor sick Gaminetti. He said that he did not care what might be said to himself, but when this young boy, whom he had raised from a child, was assailed by falsehood on that floor he should resent it. "I am responsible for what I say at any time or any place."

Gaminetti got white. He took the floor and referred to Clunie as having, on more than one occasion, assailed members on the floor of the Senate, and so far as he was concerned, he did not propose to stand it any longer. He grew red in the face; a moment before he was deathly pale. Every one present thought there would be a meeting of the Senatorial gladiators, but they were doomed to disappointment. All he did was to give him back the lie. The honor of both seemed to be satisfied and the fight ended.

When Bowers' bill came up for final passage, Senator Langford opposed its passage. He claimed that if the section was repealed, it would place the waters of the State in the hands of riparians and monopolists.

Ray, of Sacramento, opposed the bill with a fierceness that would lead one to think that he was interested. He believed, like the Senator from San Joaquin, that if the section was repealed all the waters of the State would be gobbled up by the bloated monopolists, therefore he was not in favor of its passage.

Senator White said he was astonished at the amount of dense ignorance displayed by the Senator from Sacramento on this question of the repeal. He had been getting his information from the evening Bulletin, no doubt, when he referred to the press of the State. "I suppose," said White, "if these gentlemen could have the waters of the rivers and streams run continuously into the ocean they would be considered progressive; but when a proposition is made to turn it on dry land, where it will be a benefit to the people of the State, and enrich land that is now waste and desolate, we are called monopolists. If these are the arguments used, they must fall." White wanted every Senator on the floor put on record upon this question, and moved a call of the Senate. There were two Senators absent, but soon found, and the bill was passed.

The Legislature this year is more liberal in its appropriations than the preceding one. A bill was introduced by McCullen, of Solano, for an appropriation of $250,000 for the purpose of building additional asylums for the insane; $25,000 for additions to the State prisons at Folsom and San Quentin; and Bancroft, of San Francisco, wants $250,000 from the State for his library. From the way the matter stands at the present time he won't get it. To-day the bill was brought up in the Senate, and a motion was made by Clunie to strike out the enacting clause. This was a signal for another long discussion. Clunie gave his reasons why the State should not purchase this useless lumber of books while so many poor people were clamoring for relief.

Gesford, of Napa, said it would be better to buy potatoes with the money and give them to the poor.

Murphy, of San Francisco, who seems to be the only champion of the bill, took the floor and told the Senators that they need not talk to him about potatoes when so much information was lying in Bancroft's library. Said he, "There will be potatoes to eat when you and I have long passed away (referring to Gesford); but the information that is stowed up in these books will last for ages to come, and will be handed down to our posterity and show them what their fathers did."

The enacting clause was not stricken out, and the Senators will get one more chance to air themselves and tell us what they know about education and history.

There has been more real work done in the Senate to-day than has been done during the whole session. White took the chair and began to work on the file. He dispatched a large number of bills to the first reading. A night session was held up to 10 p. m. to-night, and if it only could be kept up a week, the business before the Senate, with White in the chair, could be readily dispatched.

The meeting of the charter committee from Los Angeles did not accomplish anything to-night. They will meet to-morrow at 9 a. m. White is going to be present at the meeting and will take some part in the debate. Senator Vrooman is lending his presence, together with the Mayor of Oakland. The Los Angeles delegation will go back with a fund of information that will no doubt be of great interest to the people of the southern portion of the State.

There is some gossip here about the sudden appearance of a lady from the southern portion of the State who is in some way mixed up with a rich Senator who figured in a scandal sometime ago. The lady is described as a beautiful blonde in the Sacramento papers, but no names are mentioned in connection with the article. It is said her presence here bodes mischief.

The committee on elections have reported that Senator McDonald, of San Francisco, was regularly elected and is entitled to his seat in the Senate. There has been no report yet made in the case of Ryland vs Conklin. A report will be probably made in this case on Wednesday next.

A Cure for Smallpox.

I herewith append a recipe which has been used, to my knowledge, in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure smallpox, though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered cowpox in England the world of science hurled an avalanche of fame upon his head; but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world (that of Paris) published this recipe as a panacea for smallpox, it passed unheeded. It is as unfailing as fate, and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here is the recipe as I have used it to cure my children of scarlet fever, and cured smallpox when the learned physician said the patient must die: Sulphate of zinc, one grain; digitalis (foxglove), one grain; sugar, half a teaspoonful. Mix with two tablespoonful of water. After thoroughly mixed, add four ounces of water. Take a tablespoonful every hour. For children, smaller doses, according to age. Either disease will disappear in twelve hours. If you value advice and experience, use this for these terrible diseases. —[Cor. Stockton, Cal., Herald.

Toll Collectors.

"Three little boys from school" yesterday set up a toll-office business on the First street bridge, timewise. They put up boards on the broken sections of the First street bridge. Whenever anybody came along they clamored for a contribution, and if the party refused to pay the boards were pulled away and the traveler had to wade or put up. The game was stopped by Detectives Lynch and Smith, who arrested the young operators. The two oldest, aged about 14, were locked up, but the junior partner of the concern, only 10 years old, was allowed to go home to his mother.

ST. VINCENT'S.

The Dedication of a New Church.

SERMON BY FATHER MORGAN.

A Description of the Handsome Building—Excellent Music by the Choir.

The number of churches in our fair city augurs well for the religious sentiment of the community. Another temple has been erected and yesterday, for the first time, the portals of St. Vincent's church situated on the corner of Grand avenue and Washington street, were thrown open for divine worshippers. About eight months ago the faculty of St. Vincent's college deemed it advisable and thought that their interests would be fostered, were they to remove their institution of learning away from the centre of business, hence they purchased their present site, on which have been erected massive and convenient buildings for college purposes. At the same time, the Bishop of the diocese, Rt. Rev. Francis Mora, requested the Fathers of the college, together with their labor of teaching, to assume the charge of the spiritual welfare of the Catholics living in the western portion of the city.

The church is built of wood, having a shingled roof and brick foundations. The interior is finished in redwood and the walls and ceiling are plastered and prepared to receive fresco at some future time. The style of the building is pure early English in every detail, treated in lofty proportions. The high altar is carried out in a similar manner, crowned with the scene of the crucifixion.

The plan of the building is as follows: Aisle, sanctuary, boy's chapel, baptistry chapel, main vestibule in front and a vestibule leading to the gallery.

The visitor enters the church from Grand avenue by a flight of four steps 24 feet wide, through two doors, each 5 feet wide, to the main vestibule, 7½ feet wide and 22 feet long; thence through two doors to the aisle, 82½ feet long and 46 feet wide. The sanctuary is 35 feet wide and 21 feet deep. It is separated from the aisle with a fine gothic arch 30 feet wide and 39 feet high. From the sanctuary there is an enclosed opening leading into the boy's chapel 45 feet long and 16 feet wide. This chapel leads into a cloister 10 feet wide, which forms the main rear entrance of the college. From the sanctuary on the left is the main entrance, which leads through a passage 20 feet long and 5 feet wide, into a sacristy 25 feet long and 14 feet wide. Adjoining this is another sacristy or meeting-room 16½ feet long and 14 feet wide. There is a door at the back of the high altar leading to the external cloister. On the left hand side of the entrance is the main tower, under which is the baptistry, 12 feet square, separated from the aisle with an archway 8½ feet. On the right hand side of the entrance is a stairway to the gallery, where the organ is to be placed at some future time. The records of the church will be placed on the tower and the belfry will contain a large full toned bell. The main aisle is spanned with a trussed roof of Oregon pine and stained redwood, springing from large oak corbels built into the wall. The sanctuary ceiling is 42 feet high and the cloister windows are filled with stained glass. The height of the tower is 130 feet from the ground and a 10 foot iron cross surmounts the structure.

THE SERVICES.

The church was filled with a large congregation and the ceremonies were conducted in accordance with the splendor of the Catholic ritual. Right Rev. Bishop O'Donnell officiated, with Very Rev. F. Adam, V. G., as assistant priest, Father Gordon, deacon, and Father Smith, subdeacon, Rev. F. X. Antill being master of ceremonies. Present in the sanctuary were Right Rev. Bishop Seidenbush, of Minnesota, Father Roport, of Detroit, Revs. A. J. Meyer, C. M.; M. Dyer, C. M.; V. Gorney, C. M.; J. J. Murray, C. M., and J. E. A. Linn, C. M.

The choir sang the "Kyrie" and "Gloria" from Haydn's III, and the rest of the mass from Haydn's XVI. This classic music was superbly rendered by Mrs. O. W. Childs, soprano; Mrs. J. J. Schiller, contralto; G. T. Storm, tenor, and J. J. Schiller, basso. Professor Knell presided at the organ. The orchestral accompaniment was ably executed by the Heine Quartette, Professor Lenzberg and Mr. Foxley.

The beautiful windows of the church were all donated. They were made in Chicago, of imported cathedral rolled stained glass. The following are memorial: The main window—Mrs. Teresa Garvey. The side windows—Mr. P. Watson, Dr. V. Gelcich, Mrs. M. Gummill, M. Fitzgerald, Peter, Donohue, Peter Wilson, Mr. Spilley, R. Reeve, Kittie Kerlan, Minnie Conlan and P. Brady. The others are the gifts of G. T. Storm, George Kerckhoff, the Mrs. Dillon and Kennedy, V. Ponet, Mrs. W. H. Northolt, Miss M. Crimmins, Mrs. B. Wilson and Mrs. Huber.

The statuary and crucifix over the high altar were imported from Paris. They were donated by Mrs. V. Ponet.

The stations of the cross to be used in the church are being painted in Paris by a celebrated artist—the donation of one of the most generous Catholic ladies of our community, Mrs. O. W. Childs.

FATHER MORGAN'S SERMON.

The Reverend Father delivered an excellent discourse, to which the audience listened with rapt attention. Lack of space prevents its presentation in full, but the following synopsis will give an idea of its merit. The text was, "The Lord hath sanctified his tabernacle, because this is the house of God, in which his name shall be invoked, of which it is written, and my name shall be there saith the Lord." These words of Holy Writ find their application in the solemnity of this day, when you have gathered together within this new church, to see it dedicated to the service of God, under the patronage of St. Vincent de Paul, the father and founder of the congregation of zealous priests, to whom the Catholics of Los Angeles owe this beautiful structure. You have seen our venerable Bishop, the highest representative of God's authority in the diocese, accompanied by priests and acolytes, amidst the chanting of Psalms and litanies, solemnly bless, outside and in, the walls of this new edifice. This ceremony, the baptism or christening of the building, has separated it from all other uses but that of Divine service. It is not because all the sacraments are administered in the church that the deepest respect is demanded for it, nor because from the pulpit eloquent lips will preach the true word of God as taught for ten centuries, but every Catholic church is the house of God because it is the special place where the supreme act of the christian religion, holy mass, is offered to God every day, because Jesus the God-made-man, in the sacrament of his love, makes it his home and dwells there night and day. There are people who do not believe in the sacrifice of the mass because their ancestors 300 years ago pulled down the altars where high mass had been celebrated for 1500 years. Oh, would that these may see that they cannot properly glorify God without sacrifice. Sacrifice is the offering of some tangible thing made to God by a lawful minister and with a sacred right. The sacrifice of Jesus on the cross is the only one that merited man's redemption. Without it sinful man could never have been saved. Remember that God has always required to be worshipped by man in public sacrifice, and note this well, having offered sacrifice and said, "Do ye this in commemoration of me." Every Catholic church then is not a figure but a reality. The Reverend Father closed by appealing successfully for funds to pay for the erection of the church.

LEGISLATORS ARRIVE.

Visit of Committees of the Senate and Assembly.

The following members of the visiting Committees of the Legislature arrived yesterday from Sacramento:

Senate Committee on Education—Hon. H. C. Gesford, of Yolo and Napa, Chairman; E. B. Conklin, Santa Clara; W. W. Bowers, San Diego; A. Caminetti and Professor McConnell, Clerk. This Committee will visit the schools to-day.

Senate Committee on Military—Hon. D. J. McCarthy, of San Francisco, Chairman; A. F. Jones, of Butte county; Thos. H. McDonald, San Francisco; L. Spellacy, San Francisco; J. D. Byrnes, San Mateo and Santa Cruz; A. Yell, Mendocino and Lake; J. J. Pendergast, Clerk.

Senate Committee on Hospital—Hon. J. M. Brichard, of Trinity, Siskiyou and Shasta, and W. H. Patterson, of Modoc, Lassen, Plumas and Sierra.

Assembly Committee on Military—Hon. F. M. Cooley, of Alameda, chairman; Thomas M. Seary, San Francisco; John La Blanc, San Francisco; Captain Frank O'Grady, Solano; H. W. Carroll, Sacramento; Charles Eldred, clerk.

The Committee on Military sent a telegram to Major W. H. H. Russell from Lathrop, telling him the object of its visit and asking him to assist in every way the progress of its labors. Russell made no response, and out of the large number of National Guards in this city not a soldier appeared at the depot to greet the Military Committee, and the gentlemen from Sacramento were last night somewhat at a loss as to where they should take hold of their work. General Mathews saw the committee later and lodged the members safely at different hotels. To-night the battalion will be reviewed and inspected by the committee at Armory Hall, and after the work is over General Mathews will entertain them at lunch at Jerry Illich's. Major Russell is suffering with an attack of sciatica.

Ballona Harbor and Improvement Company.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Feb. 18, 1887.

Professor Geo. Davidson, U. S. Coast Survey:

DEAR SIR—Through Mr. George Hansen, Surveyor of Ballona Harbor and Improvement Company, I am informed that you ask for some data or information relative to the new harbor that we are constructing at Ballona Lake, now shown on the Government chart as Ballona creek. Our Board of Directors has instructed me to communicate with you on the subject, and also to send you a tracing of the plan of the proposed harbor and town of Port Ballona. I herewith send you said tracing, which is the plan we have selected and are now constructing. This I think is the best information that I can give you at present, as it shows our position at the Santa Monica bay, with which you are familiar, both as to its soundings and anchorage. And let me here state that during our last storm the ship Courser, of San Francisco, lay at anchor within 3000 feet of the proposed channel in perfect safety. If consistent and not too late, we would be pleased to have Port Ballona shown on your new chart as in course of construction; and we will be pleased to give you further information as the construction and dredging progresses.

Yours truly,

JAMES CAMPBELL, President.

The above letter will show that the Government is taking an interest in this new enterprise. It will draw more and more interest to it as the work progresses. Pile driving has been begun and is in active progress. There is not a bit of difficulty encountered in this work.

Gospel Temperance Meetings.

The Congregational Church was filled last night with a sympathetic audience eager to hear the noted evangelist, Colonel George Woodford.

The gospel temperance meetings, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., are now fully inaugurated. The Colonel took for his text part of the fifth chapter of Luke, and finely illustrated the forces and principles of the temperance work in the story of the palsied man. Several signed the pledge. The meetings will continue at the same place up to and including Wednesday evening.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

CHICAGO, February 20.—In this week's Farmer's Review the crop summary is as follows: The injury to winter wheat by reason of the recent sleet storms and accompanying cold weather is reported from various portions of Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Kansas, but the general situation as affecting the prospects of the winter wheat continues to be favorable. In Hamilton, Hardin and Kane Counties, Illinois, the outlook is regarded as precarious, with many of the fields covered with frozen sleet. Fields in Michigan and Wisconsin are nearly all covered, and reports are uniformly favorable. Reports from a few winter wheat counties of Iowa and Minnesota are generally good. The corn movement is free in Ohio and Indiana, but is very light in all other Western States. In Minnesota and Missouri there is very little corn for shipment, and the movement is very light. Many Iowa and Illinois counties are barren of corn, and are importing corn at from 35 to 40 cents per bushel. Roads are badly blocked throughout Dakota, and very little grain of any kind is moving to market.

The Frankfort Bourse.

FRANKFORT, February 20.—Prices were firmer on bourse during the past week, and there was a fractional advance. Short exchange on London closed at 20.41, exchange on New York at 4.22, and private discount at 2⅝.

The Paris Bourse.

PARIS, February 20.—On the bourse during the past week business was fairly active. Yesterday the market was especially animated at the opening, but later in the day realizations were checked by the advance in prices. The week's variations includes the following increases: Three per cent. rentes, 1f, 25c; 4½ per cent., 1f, 30c; Italians, 1f, 40c; credit foncier, 40f; Suez Canal, 7f; Panama Canal, 6f, 25c.

The Prussian Bourse.

BERLIN, February 20.—On the bourse during the week prices were firm, but business was rather limited. Yesterday the market closed with a general improvement, Hungarian rentes rising ⅛ per cent. on day, and other foreign securities ½ per cent. Prussian loans closed at 104.50; deutsch bank, at 154.10; Austrian gold rente at 86.10; Hungarian gold rente at 80; Austrian credit at 4.47; short exchange on London at 20.40; long do at 20.26, and private discount at 2⅝.

"SAYS I TO MYSELF, SAYS I."

The Los Angeles streets are filled with mud,
Says I to myself, says I;
And it rolls along in an angry flood,
Says I to myself, says I;
Filling the town with slush and mire,
Till even the street car mules expire,
And to leave this place is my only desire,
Says I to myself, says I.

Danger signals on every side,
Says I to myself, says I;
"No bottom here!" "Look out for the tide!"
Says I to myself, says I;
A pontoon bridge or a ferry-boat
Must the citizen take in order to float,
For the slush is as deep as a castle's moat,
Says I to myself, says I.

The water you drink is as thick as ink,
Says I to myself, says I;
It comes from the Los Angeles river I think,
Says I to myself, says I;
I'll leave this town on the very first train,
And I'll never come back to Los Angeles again;
In the town of Sacramento I'll surely remain,
Says I to myself, says I.

But there's one good thing they're about to do,
Says I to myself, says I;
It's a grand exposition they have in view,
Says I to myself, says I;
So if they'll all with the cash come down,
There is still some hope for this young, growing town;
I guess I'll continue and linger around,
Says I to myself, says I.

RUPTURE!!

TO THOSE WHO MAY DOUBT THAT Rupture is curable, we respectfully call attention to the following letters, which have just been received at our St. Louis office, and would state that we have received hundreds of just such letters since our celebrated "Dr. Pierce's Patent Magnetic Elastic Truss" has been before the public:

SALEM, DENT COUNTY, MO., July 10, 1886.—Messrs. Pierce & Son, St. Louis, Mo.—Sirs: I feel under obligations to acknowledge my complete cure by the Magnetic Electric Truss bought from you in September. Without the slightest confidence of hope of a cure, I was very well contented with the effects of the Truss after I had succeeded in adjusting it. I was not able to wear it without a pad under it, however, but never experienced the slightest inconvenience since then. I have continually performed the hardest labor incidental to farming, and have been practically unconscious of either Truss or rupture. I cannot positively name the exact date when the cure was completed, but have not been aware of the rupture for more than two weeks. I have since then lifted my best without wearing the Truss; and have tested the cure otherwise, but intend to wear the Truss some time yet as a safeguard. You are at liberty to make use of my statements at pleasure, and may they be an inducement to many to seek and find relief through your incomparable Truss. Gratefully yours,

CHARLES MARTEL.

FATHER UPCHURCH.

Memorial Services in His Honor.

THE A. O. U. W. CELEBRATION.

The Lodges and Legions Attend the Grand Opera House and Hear Excellent Discourses.

The memorial services of the A. O. U. W. in honor of Father J. J. Upchurch, the founder of the order, were held yesterday afternoon at the Grand Opera House. There was a large attendance. The parquet was occupied by the members of the order and the rest of the house was filled by friends and families of members. In the parquet were members from Fellowship Lodge, No. 234; Germania, No. 236; Southern California, No. 191; Los Angeles, No. 55; St. Elmo, No. 238, and East Los Angeles, No. 230, and the following legions: Pacific, No. 16; California, No. 1; East Los Angeles, No. 6, and Germania, No. 19. The choir was composed of A. J. Stamm, organist and conductor; Mrs. F. B. Fanning, soprano; Mrs. Dr. E. A. Clark, alto; F. B. Fanning, tenor, and N. Laub, basso. R. Schorb presided over the meeting and Al. Cobler acted as Vice-President. The services were opened by the choir, which sang, "Hear Us, Oh Lord," by Laboche, in an excellent manner. Rev. J. A. Wells then delivered a short and impressive prayer, which was followed by the duet, "Before Jehova's Awful Throne," by Rosewig, sung by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Banning. Upon the conclusion of the duet Rev. J. A. Wells was introduced, and spoke briefly as follows:

REV. J. A. WELLS' ORATION.

"There are two classes who receive recognition and live in the world's memory—the great and the good. The great are necessarily few, the good may include all grades of life. The poor are not shut out nor the obscure. The man of humble station and of moderate abilities and of great social disadvantages may make for himself a lasting fame. It is only necessary that his life be unselfish and include in its plans the good of the multitude. And the value of that immortality is that it is associated with the best in human nature. The great man lives in the world's memory, the good man in the world's affections. The one is an immortality secured by the power of genius, the other by force of character, as Josephine, whose loss was mourned by 10,000 of the poor of France; or Florence Nightengale, whose shadow the dying soldier kissed as it fell upon his pillow in the hospital at Scutari. Selfishness moves in small circles and is short lived. What men do for themselves is soon forgotten. Wealth may embalm a man but if wealth is all the man had he is but a mummy after all and the heirs will quarrel over the gum and myrrh which serve to perpetuate his memory. Girard had money but he put it into the public veins, devoted himself to the work of benefiting mankind and he cannot be forgotten. There is no process by which a selfish life can be embalmed so that it shall live in the world's grateful memory. But whosoever shall plan for others in generous self-forgetfulness, whosoever is widely helpful to others even in the simplest ways shall live. The memory of the richest shall not and the name of the evil man and the wholly selfish man shall speedily lose whatever pre-eminence it once had and become part of the slime sediment of the ever-rolling stream of time. But the good man being dead shall yet speak. The man who thought to help his fellows and planned to ease the burdens of human life and draw close the bands of brotherhood and strengthen and make practical sympathy for widows and orphans, out of whatever obscurity he was born into the world shall rise and be remembered and shine as one of the world's benefactors. It is because Father Upchurch has wrought for the good of man that we honor his memory to-day. We bring therefore our simple tribute to the dead founder of our order and honor him as one who has helped to make life richer in simple virtues and nobler in the qualities which make life useful rather than famous. Only the actions of the just smell sweet and blossom in the dust."

HON. W. T. WILLIAMS

Was introduced and delivered a very interesting oration. He said: "I am not here to disparage any other order, but I believe the A. O. U. W. gives more consolation and assistance than any other similar organization in existence. The family, wife and children of each brother know that when he falls, after working in unison with his brothers, the order will protect them and render assistance to them after he is gone. Providence not only selected the founder of the order, but it also gave him a name which in itself was significant—Upchurch, which means the higher church. The principles of the order arise above those of any church, except it may be the pure church of Jesus, which is broad enough to include everyone and is not circumscribed by narrow boundaries. It is only bounded by the universe. Its protection is that which includes the protection of your family, your young, your dependents. It is a shield we raise high to the clouds; as it were, against the clouds. It protects them from man's inhumanity to man, from injustice, from injury, from wrong, from poverty and sickness. Wherever the humblest member may be, his heart ever beats to the music of charity, hope and protection, and when lying on his death-bed, surrounded by his brethren, he reaches forth his hand to clasp the hands of his brothers, he knows that the future of his family—his dear ones—is provided for, and his passage into the unknown beyond is eased by that knowledge. But he who gave us the order is dead; his form we shall never see again. His noble soul has sought refuge with his God. His whole life was dedicated to the pursuits of peace. He was no military chieftain, crowned with laurels and honors, nor was he a statesman. He was a plain unassuming citizen, whose heart ever beat in sympathy for the poor and unprotected, and when other names shall be buried in oblivion his memory shall be embalmed in the hearts of men. Is it not a fact that all benefactors to mankind were born in the ranks of the poor and lowly? Jesus came from humble parentage and he selected his followers from the ranks of fishermen. Father Upchurch was the instrument by which the order was formed, and although he is no more, he still lives through the majesty of his works.

MR. A. WILHARTHIG,

Of St. Louis, spoke briefly of the life of Father Upchurch and gave a short history of the great good performed by him. The speaker claimed that Father Upchurch was a hero and an artist, an inventor as well as a philanthropist, a harmonizer of men: a great and good man. Shortly before his death Father Upchurch had ordered the speaker to bestow his blessing in the name of hope and charity, and to say that he would try and visit California again.

The exercises closed with "Remember thy Tender Mercies" by Farmer, by the choir, and Rev. J. A. Wells dismissed the audience with the benediction.

Quick Work.

After the great rain last week certain portions of the railway tracks recently made were very soft and treacherous, and in many cases where there would appear to be no sign of defect in the roadbed. A case of track settling occurred in the cut between Colton and Riverside on the California Southern Railway on Wednesday, in the stiff land that was commonly supposed to be the firmest of roadbeds, with high banks on each side; but this land, so firm and apparently so enduringly solid, is not to be relied on like dry, coarse gravel, so dear to all railway engineers. As the train was passing through the cut the wide-awake engineer felt the locomotive settling, and instantly opened the full throttle valve, which caused the engine to dart forward like a thunderbolt, pulling the train over the place in swift safety.

The section master at once raised the track and tamped the ties with dry gravel, and no delay occurred to trains. The instant action of the engineer, who had his hand on the lever, was a brilliant act, and the passengers on the train were loud in his praise.

Street Car Matters.

Yesterday the City street car line ran the first car from the corner of Washington and Figueroa streets to Vermont avenue, the western limits of the city. Cars were also run over the Downey avenue bridge. Owing to the rails spreading from the recent wet weather there is more or less irregularity in the running of street cars. A car on the two horse line yesterday got off the track eleven times between Fifth and First streets. It took a car on the Central line thirty-five minutes to go from the corner of Fort and Second streets to the new depot and several persons missed the train. W. J. Carlisle is now the Collector for all the street car lines in the city except the Main street and Agricultural Park. He frequently has a box of coin almost too heavy to carry, but he manages to lug it safely to a depository.

The Chinese Girl Case Continued.

Justice Austin was Saturday engaged in trying a proceeding on the affidavit of Constable Smith, charging that a little fourteen-year-old Chinese girl was living in a house of ill-fame, kept by one Hing Ship. The State proved that the house was of bad character, and Ship proved by a number of Chinamen that his house was the abode of virtue. Finally Deputy District-Attorney Dupuy asked the Court to have the girl examined by a physician and her chastity determined. The Court took the matter under advisement until the 23d inst.

A Pigeon-Shooting Tournament.

John W. Griffin, of the Agricultural Park, is making arrangements for a grand pigeon-shooting contest to take place at the Park, sometime early in April. The entrance fee will be $20, and it is expected that there will be no less than 100 entries, and that all the crack shots of the State will participate. The entrance fee money and the gate receipts will be divided into three prizes. Already Mr. Griffin has received letters from a number of shots who have put up the entrance fee.

Postoffice Notice.

The postoffice will be closed afternoon on to-morrow, it being a legal holiday. The letter carriers will make their usual forenoon delivery. The general delivery will be open from 10 a. m. to noon.

California Wine Exports.

The total exports of California wines, during 1886, amounted to 5,393,587 gallons. This was an increase of 800,000 gallons as compared with the exports during 1885. There was a decrease of 445,222 gallons in the shipments by Panama steamers; a decrease of 12,196 gallons in the exports by other sea routes; and an increase of 1,163,202 gallons in the quantity shipped overland. Almost the only port to which the shipments did not decrease was Honolulu, where there is a much greater demand than formerly for California wines. This is in a measure due to the reduction made in the tariff there during the last session of the Legislature, upon all California wines that are imported into the Islands. The year's figures show that for the present we must look to our own country for a market for our wines. It is here that the demand is increasing, and it is here that we must push our trade vigorously for a few years to come, while we are gradually feeling our way into the foreign markets. The consumption in this State has largely increased during the past year, and wine is being more generally used as a table-drink. It is found more frequently, and at a more reasonable price, in our restaurants. The establishment of the five cent wine shops has also been a move in the right direction, and has proved that the retailing of wine, across the counter, at five cents a glass is a paying branch of the business. We have still much to learn and much to perform before we can claim to have reached a degree of perfection in this industry, and before we can rest content that our wines are well established in the markets of the world. There is no doubt that there is ample room for them, but we must be able to supply a good article to suit the demand, then there will be no finding the market. Our figures are as follows:

OVERLAND EXPORTS—DECEMBER, 1886.

From—	Gallons.
San Francisco	195,746

Superior Advantages of Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron.

Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron possesses many superior advantages over all other tonics. It is a non-secret remedy, and is nothing more than the title suggests, "Celery, Beef and Iron." Celery has long held the first rank as a nervine, the daily use of which is more beneficial than most persons would imagine. Beef is regarded as the strongest and purest of all meats, giving more nourishment than any other, while the Iron tones up the entire system to a perfectly healthy state and gives activity to the mind. Celery, Beef and Iron can be obtained of all druggists.

SIEGE OF THE ALAMO.

Recollections of an Eye-Witness of That Massacre.

Yesterday there passed through the city a man who had borne a prominent part in one of the great struggles of the century, the history of which is too little known to Americans of the younger generation, but which furnished examples of endurance and heroism that any land might claim with pride. In the struggle for Texan independence none bore a braver part than Colonel R. L. Crompton, of Roxbury, Massachusetts. A Globe-Democrat reporter hearing of Colonel Crompton's presence in the city, sought him out, and by the expenditure of much persuasive eloquence, induced him to give an account of his experiences during the War of Independence.

"In the winter of 1834," Colonel Crompton began, "I left my home in Massachusetts for the purpose of seeking my fortune in the West. My destination was Lexington, Kentucky, but while on the Ohio river I fell in with a party of young men who were on their way to join Colonel Travis in Texas, and, carried away by their vivid pictures of the life of adventurous excitement that awaited them in that country, I joined their band, without much knowledge as to the right or wrong of the cause which I pledged myself to sustain. We traveled by boat to New Orleans, and there took ship for Galveston. Here we procured horses, and proceeded to join the Texan forces, then operating in the neighborhood of San Antonio de Bexar. Anything less like an army in appearance it would be hard to imagine. Uniform there was none, each dressing to suit his own peculiar fancy, and the men were as various as their attire. A very large percentage had left the States because they had 'met with an accident'—the Texan euphonism for having committed some crime—but the greater number were young fellows who, like myself, had been led into the war by love of change and excitement. So large a proportion of very young men has seldom been found in any military force.

"Shortly after my arrival I attached myself to the command of that magnificent Tennesseean, Colonel Milam, and soon became devotedly attached to him. He was a man of splendid character, without the sternness of Travis, or the strong flavor of blackguardism that hung about Houston. The latter I knew well, but never liked, although I could not help recognizing his strong qualities. But Milam won all hearts, and many of us thought he was the proper leader for the army.

"As soon as we had gathered sufficient strength we attacked the Mexican forces in San Antonio. They far outnumbered us, and a desperate struggle ensued. For days we fought in the streets and among the abode houses, each of which was a miniature fortress. With picks and spades we dug our way through the walls from house to house, thus avoiding the great loss which would have resulted from any attempt from a direct storm. The fight for the Vereminda House was fierce and bloody, but at last we drove the Mexicans out and took possession. But our triumph was soon turned to mourning, for shortly after it was captured the beloved Milam fell dead, shot by a Mexican who lay concealed behind a wall on the opposite side of the San Antonio river. We at length obtained possession of the town, but did not retain it long, as the advance of President Santa Ana compelled us to withdraw, leaving Travis with less than 150 men to garrison the town. I shall never forget the day when young Maverick rode into our camp with news that Travis, refusing to retreat, was shut up in the Alamo and surrounded by an overwhelming force.

"I do not know what madness possessed me, but when I heard that Houston had decided that he was too weak to march to the relief of Travis (as was indeed the case), I determined to gallop to San Antonio, endeavor to steal through the Mexican lines and join my old Kentucky friends, who were nearly all within the garrison walls. I reached San Antonio without difficulty, and found that one assault had already been made, and that the besieged had more than held her own. So far all was well, but in endeavoring to creep between the Mexican pickets I was fired upon and wounded, and owed my escape from death to the darkness. With difficulty I made my way to the house of a Mexican whom I had befriended during our occupation of the city, and he generously agreed to conceal me in his house. A narrow window commanded an excellent view of one front of the Alamo wall, and from this point I could see nearly all of that memorable struggle. Day after day the Mexican fire was kept up, and time after time were their storming columns hurled against the old church wall which formed the Texan rampart. But nothing could disturb the calm desperation of the defenders, and at the close of each day the Lone Star flag floated as proudly, and, apparently, as securely as ever from the roof of the mission. The Mexican losses were fearful. Their clumsy escopetas were no match for the long Hawkins rifles in the hands of Kentucky and Tennessee backwoodsmen. Hundreds fell every day, but their loss was little felt in that overwhelming host, while every man of the garrison who died was an irreparable injury. The line along the wall grew very thin, but still there was no thought of surrender amidst that gallant band. At length when death and wounds had reduced the poor handful to half its original numbers, the Mexicans effected a lodgment in an undefended portion of the wall and poured in by hundreds.

"Although there was no hope of success, the brave Texans fought as steadily and firmly as on the first day of the siege. From room to room went the fight, and the puny Mexicans learned by bitter experience what deadly weapons bowie-knife and clubbed rifles were in the hands of desperate Americans. But human endurance has its limits, and at last Santa Ana was the master of Alamo, but not until the last American lay cold in death. From my window I could hear the shouts and yells and see the struggling figures. When all was over I begged my host to go into the Alamo and bring me news of all that had occurred. He came back in an hour or two and said that such a shambles had never been seen. The dead were heaped in wild confusion all over the building, and the gutters fairly ran with blood. In a room on the ground floor was the corpse of Colonel Bowie, who had been butchered upon his sick bed. Not far from him was found the brave and eccentric Crockett, but the most impressive sight was in a small room in the upper story, where the gallant Travis lay, a bullet hole in his forehead, surrounded by the corpses of fifteen Mexicans who had died by his own hand. Of the Texans not one survived. But they did not die unavenged, as 1600 Mexicans fell before less than 150. It was well said that 'Thermopylæ has its messenger of defeat, the Alamo had none.'

"I served through the rest of the war and was at San Jacinto, but after the tale of the Alamo all seems small and petty, and it would be an anti-climax for me to continue my story. But I hope that the memory of our gallant struggle for independence will not be forgotten, for when all is said and done, the virtues of the early Texans far more than compensated for their shortcomings, and their heroism, like charity, covers a multitude of sins."—[St. Louis Globe-Democrat January 31st.

Physicians Have Found Out

That a contaminating and foreign element in the blood, developed by indigestion, is the cause of rheumatism. This settles upon the sensitive sub-cutaneous covering of the muscles and ligaments of the joints, causing constant and shifting pain, and aggregating as a calcareous, chalky deposit which produces stiffness and distortion of the joints. No fact which experience has demonstrated in regard to Hostetters Stomach Bitters has stronger evidence to support than this, namely, that this medicine of comprehensive uses checks the formidable and atrocious disease, nor is it less positively established that it is preferable to the poisons often used to arrest it, since the medicine contains only salutary ingredients. It is also a signal remedy for malarial fevers, constipation, dyspepsia, kidney and bladder ailments, debility and other disorders. See that you get the genuine.

Cure for Piles.

PILES are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address the Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, O. Sold by E. F. Heinzeman.

NEWS NOTES.

City Council meets at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Santa Barbara citizens have raised a fund to place an exhibit of products in Los Angeles.

The Carleton troupe left for the north at 1:30 yesterday. The party occupied a palace car.

Four prisoners escaped from the city jail yesterday afternoon by climbing through a transom.

A lot of government mules escaped from the stock corrals at the Southern Pacific yard yesterday.

The alarm of fire rung in at about 8:15 o'clock last night, was false, probably caused by accidental crossing of the wires.

Jean Maxwell, Frank Day and a number of our other local pigeon shots, had a practice shoot at the Agricultural Park yesterday.

A telegram was received yesterday from Tulare station stating that a Pullman car had been broken into by thieves, who helped themselves to numerous articles of wearing apparel, gold bracelets, silverware, valises, and even a "red child's dress."

The Herrmannesque combination will open Tuesday night at the Grand Opera House. The sale of seats is much larger than was expected, and the indications are that the house will be well filled throughout the week. Every one is anxious to see Mrs. Herrmann vanish. The magic lantern part is said to be the best which ever visited the coast.

Yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock a gray horse attached to a light buggy took fright near the Washington Gardens and started along Main street at a terrific rate of speed. After running a short distance he was captured by a Mexican vaquero, who lassoed the animal and brought him to a standstill. The only damage was a few breaks in the harness.

Mr. W. E. Youle, the Superintendent of the Puente oil wells, arrived in the city yesterday. He states that the drill and jars that fell into well No. 6, at the time of the fire, have been successfully fished out and that he will sink the well about 100 feet deeper to increase the yield, which is now 100 barrels per day. When that is done he will commence on well No. 7, just above well No. 5.

Elsinore, in San Diego county, according to the San Jacinto Register, stands in fear of losing the waters of the beautiful lake, by a proposed dam in the neighborhood of Hemet valley, to be constructed by a water company of that place, and Mr. F. W. Heald, the proprietor of Elsinore and owner of the lake will, without hesitation, serve an injunction upon the projectors of the scheme as soon as a move is made.

An undertaking on appeal has been filed in San Diego county in the case of Henry T. Gage and Rains de Foley vs. John G. Downey and the Merchants' Exchange Bank, of San Francisco. Some time ago the case, which involves the title to the entire Warner's ranch, was tried before Judge McNealy and decided in favor of the defendants. It is now proposed to appeal the case to the Superior Court, on technical grounds.

The fact that a few cases of variola, brought to this city from Mexico, have culminated here and affected half a dozen susceptible subjects in our midst, was commented upon wildly yesterday on our streets. A thorough investigation of the facts shows that altogether there have been twelve cases here, all of which were taken in hand and speedily located at the pest house. With one or two exceptions they were of the mild type, and yielded to treatment. The city and county authorities have made all necessary arrangements to handle the infection, and have it so well in hand that there is no danger whatever of its spreading.

Personal.

W. H. Carlson, of San Diego, is at the Nadeau House.

Mr. N. T. Bird, of the Call, San Francisco, is in the city.

Mrs. Dr. I. E Cohn returned from San Francisco yesterday.

Mrs. A. Siegel, mother of the hatter, left for San Francisco yesterday.

Mrs. John Levy, son and daughter, of San Francisco, arrived in the city yesterday.

Rev. O. C. Wheeler, general baggage agent of the Southern Pacific Company, is in the city.

Colonel J. J. Lyon, of the Fraternal Record, arrived with the G. A. R. delegation yesterday.

W. J. Ruddick, the newly-elected County Clerk of San Francisco, is in this city on a visit.

Frank G. Newlands and wife, of San Francisco, passed through the city yesterday en route for the East.

Mr. Sam Fay, a Democratic politician of San Francisco, is in the city with the Senate Committee on Militia.

Mrs. F. P. Kelley and her cherub daughter, little Lucile, went to Sacramento yesterday to join Mr. Kelley.

Mr. Sam Mosgrove, brother of H. Mosgrove, of this city, arrived on the train from San Francisco yesterday.

Col. and Mrs. W. R. Lundburg, of San Francisco, are here with the G. A. R., and are quartered at the Nadeau.

Governor Salomon, of San Francisco, and a member of the Republican County Committee of that place, is registered at the St. Elmo. He is attending the G. A. R. Encampment.

Colonel Mervyn Donahue, President, and Thomas C. Wills, Traveling Passenger Agent, of the San Francisco and North Pacific and Sonoma Valley railroads, arrived from San Francisco yesterday.

General Samuel W. Backus, late P. D. C. of the Grand Army of the Republic, arrived from Santa Barbara yesterday and is stopping at the Nadeau. The General will remain during the G. A. R. Encampment.

Colonel H. C. Coates, one of the wealthiest residents of Kansas City, Mo., proprietor of the Coates Hotel and Coates Opera House in that city, arrived by special car yesterday. Colonel Coates is in feeble health, and comes here for the climate. He is accompanied by his wife, his physician, Dr. H. C. Baker; a relative, Mr. E. H. Webster, and a nurse. The party will go to San Diego to-day, and return to this city on Thursday.

Rapid Sales

And the purchasers shall share the profits. That is why the Urmy tract is put on the market at so much lower prices than lots adjoining. Call and get particulars. H. N. Urmy, 114 West First street, Nadeau Block.

Theatrical.

One of the very best tricks ever performed by modern prestidigitateurs is that of the brass rings. It was first introduced in this country by the original Herrmann—an older brother of this one—at the Academy of Music, in New York, in the early sixties. It is one of the most mystifying of tricks in its combination of skillful legerdemain and optical illusion. It has been on this week's programme at the Bush Street Theater, and Herrmann has been doing it so deftly that it defies detection. Pleased audiences have filled the theater during the whole three weeks of Herrmann's stay.—San Francisco News Letter, 19 h inst.

A stage director who was about to cast Uncle Tom's Cabin, advertised in a dramatic journal for a "Topsy." He wrote it out in the usual form: "Wanted, a Topsy." What were his feelings when he read in the papers—"An Autopsy Wanted."

That man Boston Corbett is always doing something to endear him to the popular heart. More than twenty years ago he shot John Wilkes Booth, and on Wednesday last he adjourned the Kansas Legislature with a revolver. Whenever A is seen to be willing to devote his life to the service of others, B can commonly show him where to do his noblest work. Mr. Corbett could be useful in Sacramento.—San Francisco News Letter.

A Timely Discovery.

Saturday night about 11 o'clock Merchant's Patrolman McCullough discovered a light burning in the basement of E. Adams' store, No. 15 Spring street. He notified Officer Lemon, and the two entered the cellar and found that the light proceeded from a joint of the gas pipe, where the gas was escaping. How it became ignited is a mystery to the policemen and proprietor of the store. The soldering at the joint in the pipe was fast melting, and had it not been for the timely discovery by the officer there would have been a disastrous conflagration.

A Family Broil.

S. P. Richardson, a tall young man, highly inebriated, was gathered in on State street last night at 8 o'clock by Officer Jackson. Richardson had a big cut over the right eyebrow, which he alleged was due to a blow with a chair from his father-in-law. The reason of the assault he alleged to be just out of "pure cussedness" on the part of his respectable relative. As the prisoner was in such a condition that if released he would have gone back to fight the old man immediately, a cash deposit was refused and Richardson was locked up.

The Last Chance

To get a fine modern-style cottage with lot on Pico street for less than half its value. Prices are rapidly advancing and the cheapest lot in the Urmy tract is now worth more than the price asked. Only $490 each and a house worth $800 to every seven lots. H. N. Urmy, 114 West First street, Nadeau Block.

Prof. A. E. Vallonton,

MISCELLANEOUS.

Consumption Can be Cured!

This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by

Dr. M. Hilton Williams,

275 N. Main St., Los Angeles,

With his new system of Medicated Inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Over 75,000 cases treated during the past 20 years, for some form of head, throat or lung trouble.

The following is a sample of the hundreds of flattering testimonials given:

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 24, 1886.

DR. M. HILTON WILLIAMS:

DEAR SIR:—I have been contemplating for some time past making a statement of my case and the benefit I have derived from your treatment, remembering how glad I would have been could I have seen something of the kind from a person in the city to whom I could have referred, when I first came to Los Angeles from my home in New York State.

I had been suffering for several years with what various physicians in the East pronounced "chronic ulcerated laryngitis." I spent considerable time at the Clifton Sanitarium, and employed the best medical skill I could find, all without any permanent benefit, and a last resort our family physician recommended Los Angeles. For a time I improved, and then I began to go backward and all my former symptoms returned.

Through a medical friend I was induced to try your treatment, which I did August 29, 1884. I became very much discouraged at times, but persevered, as I felt almost desperate and knew of nothing else to turn to. My throat trouble being aggravated by a serious stomach difficulty, made it very obstinate to deal with, but at last, after persevering for a time with the use of your remedies, I consider I am permanently cured If this will be of any value to you, you are at perfect liberty to use it; also to refer any one to my mother, my husband, or myself.

Very truly yours, MRS. J. D. WILEY,
821 Olive st., Los Angeles, Cal.

NEWHALL, CAL.; Sept. 22, 1886.

DR. WILLIAMS:

Dear Sir:—I write to tell you how much I thank you for what you have done me. My catarrh and deafness, which have been a burden to me for so long a time, are entirely cured and my general health so much improved that I feel like a different person.

Thanking you again for your many deeds of kindness, I am respectfully yours,
MISS ANNIE RICHARDS.

RIVERSIDE, Oct 17, 1886.

To the many testimonials won by Dr. Williams it gives me pleasure to add my own to the list so highly in his favor. For nearly two years I had been suffering from throat and lung trouble, brought on by catarrh. Had tried many remedies in the meantime, but found only temporary relief. After two months treatment, prescribed by Dr. Williams, my cough left me altogether, and I now have no pain in my throat or lungs as formerly. I cannot speak too highly of the benefits I have received, and shall ever be grateful to one who is worthy of the highest recommendation.

MISS MINNIE H. HARRIS,
Riverside, Cal.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Nov. 26, 1886.

Miss Clara Fooshee, who lives near the Temple street reservoir, says—"When I began treatment with Dr. M. Hilton Williams, June 14, 1884, the doctors said I was in the second stage of consumption. They also told my relatives that I could not live long. I was very bad at that time, coughing large quantities of pus from my lung, where the cavity existed. As soon as I began treatment with Dr. Williams I began to improve, and in a few months I entirely recovered my health, which has continued permanent in every particular, although it is now over two years since I was treated by him.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address,

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D.,
